Here we go again!

It's a new year, which means new resolutions...again.

I want to start by saying how grateful I am for my health. I recently came through a challenging time fighting off three deadly blood diseases that I picked up somewhere, either in Vietnam or Fiji. Ministry overseas can be difficult, to say the least. It took six weeks of intravenous antibiotic infusions to beat those infections. Praise the Lord—it worked! I've been given a clean bill of health, and I'm happy to tell you I only missed one Sunday while in the hospital. I continue to stay on the road to this day, and this coming year promises to be one of the best calendars I've ever had in the history of our ministry. Streptococcus pneumonia in the blood is nothing to toy with, but thank God I'm free!

Last week, I received a call from the Texas Border Patrol asking about using our Texas ranch for an upcoming session. I'm excited to share that we will be partnering with the Border Patrol in the near future! Now more than ever, we can make a difference in their lives as they face the highest suicide rate among all uniformed services.

While I continue to minister to churches, the military keeps calling. This very week, I am meeting with the Air Force to plan a combined tour of all five military installations in the Colorado Springs area. This is huge! I'm thrilled about the opportunity to speak to thousands of Air Force and Army troops. The Department of Defense continues to call on me to speak to our military about resiliency and suicide prevention.

This is why you support this ministry: to reach military veterans by bringing them to our ranches in Colorado and Texas, and to reach active-duty members where they are and invite them to our ranches for healing and hope.

I seldom speak of our overseas ministry because we are in such sensitive countries. Sharing details could put our ministry—and the lives of our people—at risk. However, I will say that Vietnam is one of the most exciting ventures we've ever undertaken. The country where I nearly lost my life has become the place of our most significant victory.

Today, several hundred thousand students are part of our school of ministry for discipleship, and our K-12 schools are bursting at the seams! Our teachers include Vietnam veterans and veterans of the Global War on Terror, who are now teaching in our schools in Vietnam. This country is nothing short of amazing, and I am so thankful that God has given us favor—not only with the general population but also with the government.

Please continue to pray that God will keep me strong for the future. I have a five-year plan and intend to live it out to the best possible outcome.

The success of this ministry depends squarely on your support, sending us where you cannot go. When I first went to Vietnam with an M-16, I never imagined I would return with John 3:16.

Your support could not be invested in a better ministry for a greater return. The year 2025 promises to be the best year yet for us!

Can I count on your continued giving and support? Monthly giving and Living Wills are crucial in securing this ministry's success well into the future.

Thank you, and HAPPY NEW YEAR!
